

- Teachers and parents are both upset about the state of the US education system. Parents upset due to the low education standard and teachers not teaching effectively and teachers upset at low wages despite the work that they do.

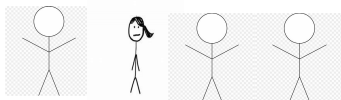

1

- Teachers and parents (and others) post their concerns on the website for everyone to read, hoping to receive enough support and recognition for these underlying problems to be fixed.

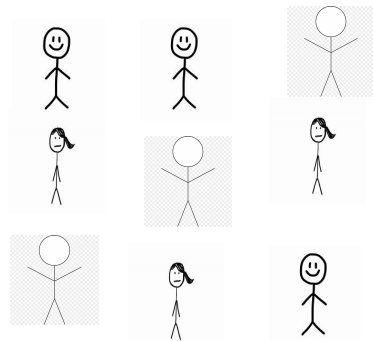

2

- Issues presented gain enough support and traction to illicit a response from prison officials and law makers making change.

3

- Change is made. Teachers receive the pay they deserve while students receive proper education from qualified teachers. Everyone is happier.
